ST. JOHN'S DAY.

THE CELEBRATION AT THE OXFORD ORPHAN ASYLUM.

A Large Concourse---Address by Hon. A. S. Merrimon---A Sumptuous Banquet.

Special Dispatch to the News.

OXFORD, June 24.—This is St. John's Day, the day set for the celebration by the Masonic fraternity at the Orphan Asylum at this place, founded by the charity of the Order. It was a splendid day, and there was quite an influx of people from neighboring villages.

At 11 o'clock there were fully two thousand people assembled at the Asylum to participate in the celebration. When everything was ready Worshipful Master A. H. A. Williams, of Tuscarora Lodge, delivered the address of welcome, briefly recounting what the institution had done together with its object, and at the close introducing the Hon. A. S. Merrimon, who took for his subject "Practical Charity." He spoke for more than an hour, and his address was alike worthy of the man and the good cause.

Grand Master Cox in a few words spoke of the noble charity and proposed a collection to aid in carrying out the work, which resulted in the raising of a handsome sum.

A sumptuous dinner was then served, everybody doing full justice to the viands.

After the dinner was concluded Professor Scarborough delivered a short address on "Education," which was well received.

The Raleigh Light Infantry Band was present and furnished the music. Everything passed off pleasantly, and there were many expressions of surprise at the amount of good the institution was doing, and this occasion will redound largely to the credit of the practical charity of the brethren of the mystic tie.

Congress.

SENATE.—The resolution fixing June 25th, at 5 p. m., as the time of adjournment was on motion of Senator Davis, of West Virginia, recommitted to the committee on Appropriations. Senator Jonas presented a memorial of the Louisiana constitutional convention asking that the Secretary of the Navy be directed to establish a Naval or Marine school at New Orleans. Referred to Committee on Naval Affairs. Senator Beck submitted a concurrent resolution providing for a joint committee of five Senators and seven Representatives to report at the next session what changes if any ought to be made in the mode of guarding or collecting revenues. Placed on the calendar. The Senate then took up Senate joint resolution relating to additional pay of the employees of both Houses and after the adoption of sundry amendments and pending the further consideration thereof the Senate adjourned at 2:10.

HOUSE.—Mr. House (Tenn.) offered a resolution for the final adjournment of Congress at 5 o'clock Wednesday, June 25th. Mr. Garfield inquired whether Mr. House could say that the appropriation bills would be passed by that time, but received no answer. Mr. Townshend (Ill.) objected to debate. The resolution was defeated; yeas 82, nays 103. Several Democrats voted in negative, among them Mr. Stephens (Ga.).

Mr. Singleton, rising to a question of personal privilege, sent to the Clerk's desk and had read an article from the the New York Sun of the 23d instant, criticising his course relative to the printing of the Glover report. He intimated that the article had been written by Glover himself, a man for whom he had supreme contempt. The House then resumed consideration of the bill prohibiting political assessments, but the Republicans filibustered to prevent action thereupon until the expiration of the morning hour. Business on the Speaker's desk was next taken up and pending the consideration of the bill relating to the enrollment and licensing of vessels not propelled wholly by sail or internal motive power, the House adjourned.

Trouble in Ireland.

LONDON, June 24.—The anti-landlord agitation in the West of Ireland has lately been causing some apprehension. Right Hon. James Lowther, Chief Secretary for Ireland, replying to a question in the House of Commons last night, stated that the Government was fully alive to the necessity of dealing promptly with the matter. He said that the deputy inspector general of constabulary had been dispatched on a special mission to the districts concerned to consult with the magistrates and local constabulary and report what additional police are required in order to insure full protection to all persons in exercise of their legal right; that considerable reinforcements are being drafted into the districts concerned, and notice has been given that in the event of any outrage the cost of these measures will be levied upon the district where it occurs.

New Shipping Project.

PORT ROYAL, S. C., June 24.—A committee of the Board of Trade of Atlanta has just visited Port Royal harbor with a view of making that harbor their shipping terminus during the coming cotton and grain season. By the time the season opens a combination will have been formed between the railroads, Board of Trade and steamship lines and direct communication established via Port Royal between the interior points west and south and foreign countries upon the same basis and at the same rates that freight is now carried by the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads and shipped from New York. Committees of the Louisville and Cincinnati Boards of Trade are expected to make arrangements with the shipping company recently established so as to utilize the the superior advantages of Port Royal harbor for exportation, importation and immigration.

Democratic Caucus.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—A joint meeting of the Democratic caucus committees to-day adjourned until to-morrow without taking definite action. It is probable that the vetoed bill will be divided into two separate measures, One making appropriations for fees for United States marshals and prohibiting the appointment or payment of deputy marshals for elections, and the other containg the remainder of the vetoed bill.

Death of a Noted Author.

LONDON, June 24.—G. W. M. Reynolds, widely known as a writer of sensational fiction, is dead.

Deemed an Indication.

LONDON, June 24.—The Times correspondent at Paris says: "The presence in the Chamber of Deputies on Saturday last of M Defurton and Baron Reille, his former under secretary in the ministry of the Interior, when other Bonapartists absented themselves as a token of respect to the deceased Prince Imperial, is deemed an indication of their abandonment of Bonapartism."

Kentucky Outrage.

CINCINNATI, June 24.—A Frankfort, Kentucky, dispatch says at Sawdrifle Saturday night a party of unknown men attacked the house of Sam Faulkner, severely wounding him as he ran from the house. They set fire to the dwelling, which was consumed with the inmates. Harry Russell, aged seventeen, was also shot, and two children of Faulkner, aged eleven and three. No cause is given for the brutal affair.

Jerome's Manifesto.

PARIS, June 24.—Several newspapers state that Prince Jerome Bonaparte will publish a manifesto this evening declaring he remains faithful to his Ajaccio programme, in which he announced his Republican principles, and that he is not a pretender to the Imperial succession, while at the same time he says his dormant claims bar the succession of any other pretender.

Furnishing Material for Another Veto.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The joint advisory committees of the Senate and House assembled shortly after 1 p. m. for preparing a new bill making provisions for the judicial expenses of the government for the fiscal year of 1880.

Turkish Affairs.

LONDON, June 24.—The Times' Vienna dispatch says the Turkish Cabinet crisis was terminated by the placing on the retired list of Fued Pasha and Murad Pasha, who had accused Osman Pasha, Secretary of War, of malversation.

Sinking of a Steamer.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 24.—The large passenger steamer General Lyth, struck a log fifteen miles below this city this morning and sank in ten feet water. No lives lost.

A Remarkable Discovery.

Louisville (Mo.) Press.

Last week, out near Mount Air church, Mr. Wm. Reading, a prominent farmer and perfectly reliable gentleman, made a most singular and remarkable discovery. He had just cut down a white oak tree twenty-four inches in diameter, and was splitting up the end next to the stump, when he came across an oak pin about one inch in diameter which had been driven into an auger hole. Upon getting this out what was his astonishment and amazement to find in the auger hole a lock of a woman's hair, of a beautiful auburn color, in perfect and lifelike preservation and between twelve and fourteen inches in length. The pin and hair was covered over with at least seventeen years' growth of the tree, which seems conclusive that it must have been where it was found from twenty to twenty-five years. Even the roots of the lock of hair were in perfect preservation and had the appearance of having just been jerked out of the head.

The whole matter is an interesting mystery, as the oldest citizens know nothing about it. It may have been some frolicsome freak of youthful lovers long since grown gray and passed over the dark river, or moved away to distant lands, or it may have been the scene of some terrible tragedy by which some bright-eyed, lithesome, girlish form, which none but the beckoning stars, the dismal winds, and the murderer himself as witnesses, laid down her young life rather than her honor. Who can tell?

Hymeneal.

Winston Republican.

Married in Winston, on June 11th, by the Rev. R. H. Willis, Mr. James Pegram, to Mrs. Gillie Wire, all of Winston.

In relation to the above event, the following poetic effusion has been handed to us. There is a "lemoncholly" strain in it which makes us feel for the poet; but our verdict still must be "sarved him right"—none but the brave deserve the fair:

Sweet Gillie Wire has wed and gone,
She's with James Pegram now;
And safe within his loving arms,
She'll smooth his wrinkled brow.

While riding fast like fury wild,
On carriage wheels up borne;
Her cheeks like flowers of beauty smiled,
As passed her lovely form.

That lovely flower, so bright and fair,
In all the glow of life;
With dimpled cheeks and beauty rare,
Became Jim Pegram's wife.

Dogs and Sheep.

Charlotte Observer.

Here is something for our North Carolina farmers to think about: In the county of Augusta, Va., they have assessed and levied a tax on dogs, out of which tax, when collected, the county remunerates parties who have lost sheep throughout the county during the year for which the tax is collected. There were 230 sheep killed by dogs in the county during the year ending the 1st of May, for which the sum of $622.98 has been paid.

Panthers in Georgia.

Elberton (Ga.) Gazette.

On Monday last Mr. George Dye killed a full grown panther in his mother's yard. The animal had come into the yard and caught a chicken, which he was leisurely eating, when his presence was discovered and he was immediately killed. He had been seen repeatedly by people along the Wahache, and a number of people had hunted for him without discovering him. It is supposed he had made his escape from some traveling menagerie.

Another Fish Story.

New Berne Nut Shell.

One of the nozzle holders of the steam fire engine Elijah Ellis, informed us yesterday that the engine "sucked up" a cat fish and an eel Saturday night, from Trent river, and that these inhabitants of the deep were forced through the nozzle by the powerful pressure of water which was "played" on the burning stables. This is not a fish story, for the "cat" was only supposed to be about two feet in height.

Successful Hunt for Beavers.

Meridian (Miss.) Mercury.

Yesterday James Shackleford invited some friends to go with him on a beaver hunt. The beavers had dammed a branch in his field, and the time of the year had arrived for them to depredate on the corn crop, and the safety of it required breaking them up. The dams were cut, the water let off and the beavers hunted in their holes by men with guns and dogs and small boys. Six beavers, old and young, were captured.

A Snake Gobbles a Turkey's Nest.

Dallas (Tex.) Herald.

The other day, on the farm of a citizen named Wallace, in Grayson county, a six-foot chicken snake coiled itself in a turkey nest while the old hen sat thereon, swallowed all the eggs and a door-knob besides, which happened among the eggs.

A MAN BADLY MIXED.

HIS HEART MAKES A SHIFT TO THE RIGHT SIDE.

The Doctors get to Work at Him and Relieve Him of several Gallons of Dropsical Matter.

New York Times.

The physicians of this city are very deeply interested in the treatment of a man whose heart has in some way been shifted from its natural side, and has been doing duty in an inadequate fashion in this novel location for two years past. The patient is Lathrop G. Warford, a native of West Troy, who was forced to give up his place as cashier in French's Hotel two years ago on account of his malady. His first seizure, and the first serious illness of his life, began early in the winter of 1877. He contracted a very severe cold, which baffled medical skill, and must have been pleuritic. The cold ran its course with great violence, and the physicians agreed that the patient was well advanced in the first stage of rapid consumption. Late in the spring of 1877 Warford had become emaciated to a skeleton, and so weak that he was sent home to die.

In West Troy he put himself under the care of a physician, who was at a loss to account for the absence of some of the most characteristic symptoms of consumption, and made a thorough sounding of the chest of his patient. He soon found that the left lung was so withered that it performed no functions whatever; but, singular to say, he could find no disease therein to account for its atrophied state. He was dumbfounded when, extending his auscultation to the right side, he beating there quite regularly, and with all the strength that was to be expected from a person as bad off as he was. Warford himself was ignorant of the change in the location of his life-pump. He was of such robust constitution that his attention had not been called to it by any morbid symptoms, but when he had last felt for it he found it in its right place. This was proof enough that the displacement had been forcible, and not genital, so the doctor set about finding the cause.

Dropsy of the thorax sometimes produces displacement of that organ, but no recorded case told of any such radical change of location. Many of the most characteristic symptoms of dropsy were wanting, but physicians in consultation finally agreed that Warford's disease was dropsy, and located the spot where the dropsical effusion was poured into the thoracic cavity. But Warford was so far gone that they did not think he could bear the knife. Unexpectedly he rallied, and one day and began to operate. The primary incision, about eight inches from the spine, between the fifth and sixth ribs of the left side, fortunately struck the very center of the deceased portion. Through a rubber tube, in five minutes nearly a gallon of purulent serous matter was drawn off. For a month after this Warford improved, but then he began to sink again. Six weeks after the first tapping the operation was repeated, and seven pints of matter were removed. Then his improvement was so rapid that for the first time his physicians began to think of permanently curing him. He has now been tapped six times, and thirty-nine pints of the dropsical matter have been drawn off. The last tapping was done three months ago, and his physicians hope that another will not be needed for three months to come. The patient is so much better that he has returned to this city, and is about to engage in active business again. Wherever it sh ll become necessary to pump him out again, his physicians intend to try to introduce active inflammation in the diseased part, hoping thereby to cure it up radically. There is no active disease in the atrophied lung, which exhibits some signs of returning activity. Should it become inflated again and go to work, they hope that the heart may be induced to return to its normal place.

The only recorded case at all similar was described in the English medical journals a short time ago. The patient in that case was a contortionist who managed to displace the organ once too often. His natural constitution was inferior to Warford's, and he died.

The Closing of the Inlet

Wilmington Review.

Now that a due appreciation on the part of our citizens has been acknowledged in a proper manner by a meeting called for that purpose, of the important part that our esteemed fellow-citizen, Henry Nutt, Esq., has taken in the great work of River and Bar improvements, would it not be a wise and proper move also for our merchants and citizens generally to make some public demonstration of the important event which has lately transpired, viz.: the closing of New Inlet? That the closing of this Inlet is an important work toward the commercial prosperity of this city the testimony of every scientific engineer who has ever made a government survey of this coast and river will bear witness. Among the first to declare this opinion was the eminent United States officer of the Engineer Corps, who visited this city many years ago, and was the guest of the late P. K. Dickinson, Esq. We allude to Professor Bache.

This gentleman ventured the opinion that unless the New Inlet was closed we would eventually be without a bar altogether. But our purpose in this article was simply to suggest the propriety of some public demonstration in honor of the completion of such an important undertaking, and we would further suggest that it should not be simply a local demonstration, but let it be State wide. A gentleman of this city, a member of a prominent Water street firm, who has just returned from Raleigh, says that during his recent visit to the Capital, he had numerous inquiries propounded to him by persons from every section of the State in regard to this great event, the closing of the Inlet. It was something that no one in other portions of the State had expected or looked for. His Excellency, Governor Jarvis, we also understand, thinks that some demonstration ought to be made, and signified his willingness to attend at any time, and so did other prominent officials of the State, among them Colonel William Johnston, of Charlotte, President of the State Board of Public Works.

Here is an opportunity offered for our citizens to bring together the representatives from every section of the State to our own doors. People from the mountains and our extreme Northern and Western borders, who have so far shown no community of interest with this section, may come and bring their sisters and their cousins and their aunts. There is an intimation in the inquiries made by gentlemen from other parts of the State that they are really beginning to realize the fact that Wilmington is within the boundaries of North Carolina, and a demonstration of the kind mentioned may be the beginning of an awakening on the part of North Carolinians everywhere to a little more State pride, which may culminate in a little more patronage of our home institutions instead of visiting the commercial ports of our neighbors on the North and to the South of us. Who among our citizens will be the first to move in this matter of a public State demonstration of rejoicing over the long wished for closing of New Inlet?

SWEPT DOWN WITH THE SEETHING FLOOD.

A French Lady Stooping for a Drink of Water Loses her Balance and is Swept Away.

BUFFALO, June 21.—Another sad catastrophe occurred at Niagara Falls this morning, which resulted in the going over the falls of Mrs. A. Rowland. Mr. and Mrs. Rowland arrived at the Falls on the 18th instant from the West. They registered at the Falls Hotel as Mr. and Mrs. A. Rowland 24 Rue Magran, Paris, France. They took rooms at this house but had their meals at J. B. Romain's French restaurant, on the corner of Main and Falls streets. They had visited the various points of interest at the Falls several times, and seemed to have enjoyed themselves very much. It was their intention to leave at noon to-day for New York. Tickets by railroad had already been purchased; thence they have been intending to take the first steamer for France. After breakfast this morning they though they would like to see the falls once more, and started out. They walked leisurely to Goat Island Bridge, which they crossed, taking the right hand road on the opposite side, which led them to Luna Island. They stopped at the Cave of the Winds, but concluded after reaching there not to go through. They then went out on the point where Terrapin Tower used to stand, thence they turned to the Three Sisters Islands, which they reached about half-past nine o'clock. They crossed to the third island, went down the steps to the right, where they met two gentlemen coming up.

FOLLOWING A BOY'S EXAMPLE.

They also saw a boy getting water out of the river at the end of the third island, where the bank is a little more than a foot above the water and where the rapids are exceedingly swift. At this point they stood for a few moments enjoying the scenery. After the two gentlemen and the boy had left Mrs. Rowland asked her husband for her pocket cup, saying she wished to get a drink. Mr. Rowland took a small silver cup out of a leather case that he had in his pocket and handed it to her. He then walked away a few steps and took a view up the river. His wife in the meantime went to the place where she had seen the boy dipping up water and attempted to fill her silver cup. In doing this she must have lost her balance and fell into the seething rapids.

OVER THE PRECIPICE

As she fell she uttered a frightful scream, which caused her husband to turn about, and seeing his wife struggling in the water he rushed to the edge of the bank, but she was out of his reach and beyond all human aid. After seeing his wife pass from his sight in the boiling, seething rapids he turned and ran nearly the whole distance to the French restaurant, where he dropped completely exhausted in a chair. He groaned and wrung his hands when the proprietor, Mr. Romain, came up to him and asked what the matter was. He replied, "My wife is gone under the water," and when he had recovered his breath sufficiently to talk, related the sad occurrence.

ON A PLEASURE TRIP ROUND THE WORLD.

Mr. Rowland is a manufacturer of firearms, his place of business being at No. 51 Boulevard De Arroy, Liege, Belgium. He is about forty years of age, tall and in delicate health. His wife was about thirty-five years of age. They were married two years ago, and after visiting the Paris Exhibition started, in October last, for a pleasure trip around the world. Going through the Suez Canal, India, China and Japan they crossed the Pacific Ocean to San Francisco, visited Chicago, and, as mentioned above, reached the Falls on the 18th. Mr. and Mrs. Rowland could only talk English a very little. They were noticed to be quite loving, and the theory that was first started, that there was a suspicious look about the affair, finds no credence among his French friends. Mr. Rowland seems to suffer intensely from this sad affliction, which, in a moment of his great happiness, deprived him of his faithful and loving wife. He will remain at the Falls for a week in the hope of recovering the body of his wife. He will use every effort to find the body, and, if found, will take it to France.

Pedestrianism Through the Mountains.

Charlotte Observer.

A popular mode of traveling over the mountains in the western part of our State is to go on foot, taking it leisurely. Parties are formed, of three or four persons, who start from some point on the railroad and walk till they have seen all points of interest, stopping on the way for fishing and hunting as often and as long as they can find amusement. A party from Cabarrus, composed of three young men returned two weeks ago from an extended trip, taing in Warm Springs, Asheville, Black Mountain, and many other points. A week or two ago Mr. J. S. Manning, Robert Strange and A. C. Springs, recent graduates of the University, left Charlotte on an expedition of this sort. They were in Lenoir the early part of the week and were joined there by two other parties. They carry a change of clothing in a small wallet, the whole not weighing over six pounds, and expect to be out six weeks or more. Those who have tried it, say it is full of fun, and affords advantages which cannot possibly be enjoyed by the ordinary methods of travel. It is likely that there will be many parties of this sort in the mountains this season.

A Hen With Teeth.

New York Herald.

David Fishel, of this city, is the owner of a fowl that settles for all time the question of hens' teeth. The hen is about a year old. She was hatched in Ohio. She has no bill, her head being something like a monkey's. The teeth are small and look very much like a baby's first two or three incisors. They are set in both jaws. The hen fell into Mr. Fishel's hands in the regular business way, but he has fixed up a coop for her in his store window.

Hancock Again.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

There are a good many Democrats in Pennsylvania and elsewhere who believe General W. S. Hancock is the dark horse who may yet come in and win the race. When Ewing and Rice are elected in October he may be unblanketed.

HIS WORKS DO FOLLOW.

ATTENTION INVITED TO A SERIES OF COMPARISONS.

Some Advice to the General Assembly---Dr. Grissom's Wants and Expenditures---A Poor Investment.

Correspondence of the News.

GREENSBORO, June 21.—Having patiently awaited the close of examinations and college commencements, I trust I may prove a more welcome visitor to your valuable columns, in attempting to give the people some light upon the management of their noble charity.

The legislation under discussion is not, nor was intended to be, as supposed by the State Medical Journal, a reflection upon the Directors of the Asylum. This is shown by their retention in office under the act. The General Assembly would be very slow to reflect upon such gentlemen as these, who undertook their thankless office without pay and in a pure spirit of patriotism and benevolence. Indeed it will be easily seen that if it took the committees, when armed with the judicial power of examining witnesses on oath, weeks to arrive at an approximation of the true state of facts, the Directors, without such power, however superior in intellectual endowments, could never have accomplished the same task in annual sessions of only one or two days' duration. Nor could the Executive Committee, vigilant as they were, effectively go behind the scenes without this lever to prize open the way. Both the Board and its Executive Committee had to take a vast deal on trust from Dr. Grissom. The simple truth is that practically under the old law, the Asylum has been, almost necessarily, and its inner workings hermetically sealed to the outside world. He and not the Directors is entitled to the credit or the blame of its good or evil management. Which is it? We shall see.

ENTIRELY IN THE HANDS OF DR. GRISSOM,

The act complained of endeavors to remedy these things and changes the powers, duties and compensation of the superintendent. Hinc illæ lachrymæ! I do not hesitate to declare, and will show hereafter, independent of the evidence already adduced, that if its appropriation shall be faithfully administered, it will be found that the General Assembly has not abridged a single comfort of a single inmate of the Asylum, nor in the slightest degree impaired its efficiency as a curative institution. The committee thought $45,000 amply sufficient; but out of abundant caution they gave an additional $5,000, contingent upon the certificate of the Directors, endorsed and approved by the Governor. They had entire confidence in the Directors (meeting quarterly) and in the clear, cool and excellent judgment of our Governor, and were therefore content to give the additional sum upon the double safe-guard of their approval. But without exception of Democrat or Republican so far as I know, they believed it unnecessary and relied upon these gentlemen to

CALL A HALT TO THE DOCTOR

at the end of the $45,000 if not before. And they will pardon me for suggesting the impossibility of carrying out the spirit of this law, without thoroughly overhauling matters and deliberately "setting their pegs" in the beginning. Delay will, I respectfully warn them from the teachings of the past, inevitably result in the same old song of "insufficient appropriations," coupled with the same old appeal to the Legislature to supply a heavy deficit. And here in the name of common decency, as one of the tax-payers of the State, I protest against what I understand to be a not unfrequent habit of this institution of exceeding the appropriations of the General Assembly. It is a practice reprehensible in the highest degree, because a violation of law and of morals and a mischievous assumption of the powers of legislation. "Set your pegs," gentlemen, and force the Doctor to come to them. If he insists that he can't, what then! Why every consideration of honor and propriety points to but one simple answer, "Let him give place to one who can." I assure the Doctor and the Board that there are many sons of the State, notwithstanding an industriously fully capable of performing his duties within the appropriation and without the slightest detriment to the comfort or efficiency of the institution.

CIRCULATED OPINION TO THE CONTRARY,

But to return to the report. A comparison is instituted in which the impression is plainly conveyed that it costs more to feed the convict than the insane patient. The State Medical Journal seems to be so impressed. A very slight examination of a brief extract will show the sort of trash (if the Doctor will pardon me) with which the people are gulled. Here it is slightly condensed:

"The cost per capita of the entire prison population attached to the penitentiary I am informed is 36 cents. * * It is evident that the portion * * which live wholly within prison walls * * must far exceed the 13½ cents margin between 36 and the 49½ cents appropriated to the insane. (Page 17.) What then is the humiliating fact? It is that the highway robber and the murderer finds the treasures of the State freely poured forth for his guardianship and comfort. But you, venerable father, and you, lovely girl, yesterday unfolding with the freshness of the primrose * * poor fluttering dove * * must be allowed only such food as half the convicts' allowance will buy (pp. 18, 19, 20, 21.) What can that action mean * * which fattens and starves the stricken child of woe?" (p. 22) Now when the above was written the Doctor had in his possession, or within easy access, the penitentiary report which, on page 40, says: "The average number of convicts from November 1, 1877, to November 1, 1878, was 892—cost of feeding each per day 7 48-100 cents. The whole cost, including officer's salaries, guards' pay, food, clothing, and all necessary expenses, 36 65-100 cents per day. Of these the average number on the Western North Carolina Railroad, 427; entire cost as above, 31 48-100; and the average on the Fayetteville Road 87—entire cost 35 58-100. Now for the Doctor's problem: What is the cost of each of the 387 remaining in prison walls? Major Bingham's smallest boys will demonstrate in a twinkling that it is just 42½ cents, and not "far exceeding 49½," as declared by the Doctor. But fairness demands that the comparison be confined to the same year for both institutions, which the Doctor does not do. The relative figures for the year 1878, when the Penitentiary paid $20,000 in salaries more than the Asylum were 36 and 62½ cents. The appropriation for the Penitentiary was greatly more reduced than that of the Asylum, as that the proportion for 1879 is still more largely in favor of the latter. The truth is that when the convict got 7½ cents for food, the insane patient was getting 19½ inclusive of whisky, ale, &c., and this 19½ has never been reduced one iota. But assuming that it has been and in proportion to other items, then as the provisions last year were 28 per cent. of the entire appropriation, the same per cent. now would give the patient 14 cents for food. So that from his own standpoint our distinguished friend is entreated to explain how the 19½ cents or even 14 is one-half of the convict's allowance of 7½ or less! and how the latter figures will "fatten the outcast in the felon's cell," at hard work all day, and the former "starve the stricken child of woe" on no work at all. If he will do so satisfactorily, I think I may safely guarantee unanimous endorsement by the next State Medical Convention of his side of the Hammond controversy.

IF IN YOUR SCHOOL-BOY DAYS, DOCTOR,

you ever made such a sorry exhibition of figures on recitation to "old Doctor" Wilson as you have here given to the public, he soundly rapped your rhetorical head with his ferule and stood you blubbering in the corner of the school house to relearn your lesson. But joking aside, will our friend attempt to escape by including in his estimate the $40,000 cost of penitentiary buildings? Even then his position is untrue, and the fallacy so transparent and puerile as to render it unworthy of notice. There seems a want of ingenuousness about this statement absolutely amazing until it is discovered that the above extract (page 17) is what necessary to introduce the next performer and place of entrance on the stage. Without it, as it is, those "venerable fathers" and "lovely girls" could never have appeared at all, and the world would altogether have lost the pendant six pages of the very prettiest talk in the whole report. In fact, the chief if not the only fault of this production is that each of its material positions, upon examination, become too much like the old gun of the doggerel,

THEATRICAL PEFORMERS CALL A "CUE,"

"Which, whether aimed at duck or plover,
Is sure to kick the owner over."

But as time presses, we will leave all this for the present, and as we have respectfully followed, beg leave now to lead our friend a little further into the field of comparison. Mr. Editor, in a classic grove, in the suburbs of the refined town of Oxford, and in the very front rank of noble charities, there stands the Orphan Asylum, a monument to the Masonic fraternity more beautiful and lasting than Parian marble or perennial brass. When marble and brass shall have crumbled and far beyond the final wreck of matter, its results will wreathe themselves into a crown of glory for this fraternity and its superintendent in charge. This side the grave it will be impossible to estimate the good done by that man. It will require and purified by association with the infinite charity to see and appreciate it. Yet how quietly and unobtrusively and successfully he works! He knows of Lobby as he knows of Siam, only by reading and hearsay. No subsidized press will ever gild his brow with a meretricious fame. "His works do follow him," and they alone proclaim him. During the investigation of the Insane Asylum, one of the committee meeting him by chance on the train, drew from him many interesting facts connected with his work. Desiring to test his own memory, the same member, before this correspondence began, and without intimating his object, addressed certain inquiries to Mr. Mills by letter, to which the following is his answer. I trust he will pardon the liberty I have taken in referring to him here, and feel sure there can be no breach of propriety in publishing this letter:

MINDS FREED FROM THE CLOGS OF MORTALITY

ORPHAN ASYLUM, OXFORD, N.C., May 5, 1879.

DEAR SIR:—Last year our receipts were $7,781.28. Average number of orphans 130—not quite $5 a month for feeding, clothing and teaching each orphan. During the last five months we have spent $3,311.11. Number of orphans 128—a little over $5 a month; but these are the five most expensive months. When vegetables come in fully, our expenses will come down 30 per cent. Besides, of this $3,311.11 we used about $300 improvement and repairs, which will be permanent, as the buildings are now in much better condition than when the Orphan Asylum was opened. But General Cox (the present Grand Master) advises me to spend $5 a month on each orphan, even though I could reduce expenses to $4 a month. It has been about three since we had a case of serious sickness, and all were able to respond to the breakfast bell this morning. Not knowing the object of your inquiry, I have tried to answer comprehensively. Will take pleasure in answering any questions in regard to the orphans.

With sincere esteem,
J. H. MILLS, Superintendent.

Now then, as a matter of interest to the tax payers, to whom the Doctor appeals, and introductory to some comparison I propose to institute between the management of the asylum and that of other institutions. I invite attention to the following table, calculated mainly from the Doctor's report and showing the amounts used, the number of patients, and the annual daily per capita for each year since 1867 in the Insane Asylum:

Year.	Amount Used.	Patients	Annual Per Capita	Daily Per Capita
1868	$7,327.35	211	271.79	74½
1869	64,750.00	219	295.66	81
1870	80,700.00	229	352.40	96½
1871	73,352.70	243	303.92	83¼
1872	66,997.70	245	273.46	75
1873	70,000.00	242	289.25	79¼
1874	65,000.00	245	265.31	72¾
1875	70,000.00	250	280.00	76¾
1876	75,098.00	257	284.25	77½
1877	63,000.00	270	233.33	63¾
1878	71,535.00	278	257.32	70½
11 years	755,760.73	2,688	3,106.61	859¼

Average per year, $68,688.73; average patients, 244; average annual per capita, $282.40; average daily per capita, 77½.

This table is to be approximately correct, and if wrong rather under than above the mark. There are some $13,000 resulting from the extension of the fiscal year in 1879, and probably deficits for others not taken in the account. Having no report for 1877, the number of patients, at a venture, is put at 270, though according to my recollection it is not so large.

THERE WAS A CONFLICT IN THE TESTIMONY

before the committee as to the average in 1878, the Steward placing it at 270. We, however, gave the Doctor the benefit of his own statement.

The Doctor places the expenditures for 1878 at $65,535.06 and I have used that sum in discussing the contrast presented between the penitentiary and the Asylum; but as there was a debt contracted of $8,000 presumably in 1878, and as the last General Assembly paid that debt, it is thought to be properly added to the expenses of that year. The table also embraces repairs. So that it will be seen that under Dr. Grissom's administration (who went into office July 6, 1878), a period of eleven years, an average of 244 patients, have cost the State in round numbers about eight hundred thousand dollars—$282.40 each per year and 77½ cents per day. We now give table for Orphan Asylum on the basis of 1878 for all purposes:

Year.	Amount Used.	No of Orphans	Average Per Capita	Daily Per Capita
1878	$ 7,781.28	130	$59.85	16¼ cts
1878	17,303.00	244	59.85	16¼ cts
11 years.	$160,633.00	244

So, then, briefly to recapitulate, 244 orphans under Mr. Mills cost $14,603 per year and $160,633 for the eleven years. While the same number of patients under Dr. Grissom (adding the $13,000 spoken of above) cost $69,887.33 per year and $768,760.63 for eleven years—an excess of $608,127.63. To your correspondent these figures would seem "incredible, if they were not before him in gloomy reality." (p. 20.)

"Oh! but," says the Superintendent,

THE INSANE MUST HAVE EXTRA FOOD,

extra attendance and extra medicine. Everybody knows he costs a great deal more than the sane." This is cheerfully admitted. But, my dear sir, how much? Will twice as much do? If Mr. Mills can take care of 244 on $14,603, ought not Dr. Grissom to do so on $29,206? Surely an additional sum, amounting to the sum total of the necessaries, ought to furnish the extras, especially when the Doctor raises at the Asylum, in profuse abundance, almost every vegetable known to the catalogue of Buist or Landreth. Who doubts that this ratio would have been ample had Mr. Mills been in Dr. Grissom's place, and that without detriment to the institution? If so, North Carolina would have saved $447,494.63 by the exchange of men. But the Doctor still demurs. Ah, then, as your correspondent likes to be generous, and, above all things, loves harmony, let the Doctor himself fix the ratio. Passing by hundreds of Asylums in America and to pounce down upon what the tenor of his report describes as instances of extraordinary proportion—rari nantes in gurgite vasto—on page 34 he says: "Thus in England and Ireland, three times as much is paid for the food, clothing, attendance and management in public asylums of the insane pauper as compared with the sane." (Oh! Doctor, parenthetically, how could you abuse us so when notwithstanding it reduces you heavily, the present act still gives your insane pauper more than three times as much as Mr. Mill's sane pauper? How could you?

LEAPING THE BROAD ATLANTIC

Now let us apply this rule and it will give Dr. Grissom as the proper cost for one year $43,809, and for his official period $481,899. But the Doctor used for one year $69,887.33, and for the eleven $768,760.63, according to his own report $286,861.63 more than enough. Did the R. and R. Committee have no ground for the declaration, 'that the judicious economy used by a discreet individual in the management of his private affairs, applied to this institution would save thousands to the State?" But hold! Our margin enables us to throw away the thousands with a Count of Monte Christo prodigality. For repairs and good measure let us knock off $91,861.63 and we have left as waste $195,000. Now then for this time have amounted to about $55,000, or about $5,000 per year. Add this and it is demonstrated that our poor old State has paid for the distinguished services of our distinguished Superintendent the snug little sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. It is in no spirit of personal unkindness to him that I declare it as my conscientious conviction the poorest investment our old mother ever made, considering the amount involved. Nor is it any personal reflection to say so, for $22,727 a year is too much for anybody this side the White House.

But, Mr. Editor, I cannot control my unskilled pen. The "wee hours" which usher in a new Sabbath morn are in sight, and though I have transgressed all reasonable limits of a letter, I am not half through with the comparisons I expected to embody in this. So, craving your indulgence for another time, I bid you a fair good night,

"And pleasant dreams and slumbers light."

Yadkin College.

This college was established in 1849, but during the war, like most institutions of the kind in the South, its operations were suspended. It was revived after the war, and it is now under the management of its President, the Rev. S. Simpson (who has had charge of the college for six years), with three members of the faculty, all able and experienced teachers; it is rapidly gaining in patronage, usefulness and character.

The college is situated in the beautiful valley of the Yadkin, nine miles from Lexington, a county unsurpassed for health, climate and good morals. The faculty gives especial attention to the moral, as well as the mental culture of the pupils.

At the Commencement recently held three young gentlemen bore off a diploma from the institution. The fees for tuition and board are remarkably low. For particulars see advertisement in another column.

This institution is commended to the readers of the NEWS as worthy of patronage.

Supreme Court.

Court met at 10 o'clock on yesterday; all the Justices present.

Consideration of appeals from the 4th District, was resumed.

Merchants Bank of Fayetteville vs. T. S Lutterloh et al., from Cumberland; argued. Gray & Stamps for the plaintiff, and Guthrie & Carr for the defendants.

W. Overby and wife vs. Fayetteville Building and Loan Association, from Cumberland; argued. Guthrie & Carr and T. H. Sutton for the plaintiff, and Hinsdale & Devereux and McRae & Broadfoot for the defendant.

Court adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

A Parentless Baby.

The coroner held an inquest at 9 o'clock yesterday over the body of the dead infant alluded to in yesterday's NEWS as having been found in the rear of a lot on east Hargett street.

The investigation elicited the fact that it was a white male child, that had not reached its full term. There was no evidence as to who its mother was. This is the verdict:

"That the remains are those of a fœtus, not of full time, and were deposited at the place they were found by some person or persons unknown to the jury."

Excursion and Picnic

This morning the First Presbyterian Sunday school have an excursion to Colonel Faison's farm where a picnic will be held. The train will leave the (old) Raleigh & Gaston depot about 8:30 o'clock. An enjoyable time will doubtless be had.

THE VETO.

It seems almost useless to review the points of the President in his last veto —that of the Judicial Appropriations Bill—as in fact he has only repeated the objections made in his former vetoes of like bills; but the fact remains patent that the President means to have his own way, as far as he is able, or in other words he will coerce Congress if possible to meet, not his own personal views, but those of the Stalwart section of the Republican party. Whether or no the mode pursued by the President in the treatment of this subject will prove beneficial to the schemes of the demagogues now in control of that party is a mooted question among the men of ability enrolled in its ranks who do not aim at fat offices or political honors.

The issue now is a matter of principle arrayed against the schemes of self-aggrandizement put forth by Messrs. Conkling, Blaine, Sherman, Chandler Garfield under the flimsy veil of liberty in all its moods and tenses, and the "perpetuation of the Republican party, "by which organization, according to "this announcement, only can liberty be "preserved." It is a matter of political life and death with these gentlemen that the party should be preserved, for once disorganized their present record would not permit of their being allowed advanced positions in any political party that could be formed on any of the issues of the day. Consequently their hope lies in being able to gain the victory in the next Presidential campaign, and their only weapon—a potent one it must be confessed—is sectional discord.

To aid in this work one of the most remarkable plans ever devised has been put in operation, viz.: to coerce Congress into granting funds to a large amount to pay political hangers-on, with the veto power suspended over each appropriation bill as a threat to starve the Government to death if these wasteful appropriations were not granted.

So far as the army bill was concerned no one thought the stationing of a handful of troops in the vicinity of polling places throughout the country generally when elections were being held was a very serious matter, beyond establishing a dangerous precedent. But the troops were not distributed in a general manner—they were only sent to sections where, although not needed any more than in the quiet country village in Massachusetts or New York, a reputation for lawlessness was established by false reports created and circulated by the managers of political journals of wide reputation and circulation.

"These troops are needed to preserve "the freedom of the ballot-box," chanted the Republican managers in unison; "and if you don't appropriate "the necessary funds you starve the "Government to death!"

Then up steps the little joker of a statute relative to the appointment of supervisors and deputy marshals for election purposes granting them almost autocratic power. Congress, not being able at present to abolish this most unwise provision, refuses to grant an appropriation for their support, but makes ample allowance for the tupport of the Government otherwise. To this the President takes exceptions, and in a partisan political essay tells Congress what it must and what it must not do, and vetoes the bill.

"These officers are needed to pre-"serve the purity of the ballot-bo sing the Stalwart worthies; "and if you "don't appropriate the necessary funds "you starve the Government to death!"

We beg leave to state that the "starving is being done by the managers of the President. Congress is willing to provide for the support of the Government, but is not in favor of lavishing the people's money on a parcel of servile knaves who are endeavoring to subvert the Government while subsisting on it. The Democratic policy is able to stand before the whole country on the "starving" question. The people will look at the question whether or no they are to pay high duties on tea, coffee, and other things now commonly classed as necessaries in order to help support a lot of political "dead-beats" who subsist on the public that the Republican managers may be assisted in electing their ticket at the ensuing election.

BAD news from the growing crop now begins to come in. Texas sends us the first groan on account of a blasting drouth—so wide spread and general that the cattle are said to be dying on the plains for lack of grass and water. There is the first alarm to-day which looks at all worthy of attention from caterpillar in southeastern Georgia. But it is getting near the time for the general chapter of accidents and mishaps to open. It is rare that they are not numerous even if the season winds up with a heavy crop. We will not back our opinion to any extent, but this year we feel like prognosticating a moderate crop and flighty and eccentric market next fall and winter.

THE people of this country, says the San Francisco Gazette, are surprised to learn that the fair so extensively advertised to be opened in the City of Mexico next January is likely to be abandoned. The fact is, the European traders in Mexico, with whose trade it would interfere to let the people of that country know the superiority of our goods, are determined it shall not take place, and they rule Mexico, and have for many years; and besides they cheat the Government out of half the duties by false invoices and bribery of custom-house officials.

PRINCE JEROME BONAPARTE announces that he will remain faithful to his Ajaccio programme, in which he announced his Republican principles, and that he is not a pretender to the Imperial succession. He says that while his claims lie dormant they are a bar to the succession of any other pretender. The late Prince's testament relieves "Plon-Plon" of all care in this line, as he nominates Prince Victor Louis, eldest son of Prince Jerome, as his successor, and the Bonapartists will undoubtedly accede to the terms of the will.

THE Salt Lake Herald states that the herd of camels imported into Arizona three years ago, and which because of apparent failure to acclimatize them the owners were obliged to turn loose, have bred liberally, have become acclimated and domesticated to the region, and thrive as though they had been in their native Asia. It is expected that the offspring of the imported herd will become accustomed to the alkaline waters peculiar to that region, and that they can be used to carry the mineral products of that country to a market. The former owners, believing that there is money in their camels, are now getting the rejected beasts together, and intend to devote some care to the breeding and rearing of them.

THE New York World makes the following pertinent suggestion: "Is "there not something serious in "the air when a great party demands "that our army be looked upon as the "palladium of our liberties; when that "party calls upon the Secretary of the "Treasury to use the Treasury patron-"age to make himself a candidate for "the Presidency, and keeps an eye on "the brother of the Secretary of the "Treasury, who is General command-"ing the armies of the Republic?"

GOV. ROBINSON, of New York, has vetoed the tramp bill, on the ground that its definitions were too general and that it endowed the police with powers of a questionable nature in making arrests. He signed the bill reducing the rate of interest from 7 to 6 per cent.

SPRINGER has merely ornamented his record with a fresh blunder.—New York Tribune.

A new way of putting it. We were under the impression that it was Mr. Garfield whose record was ornamented.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The vetoes seem to be about exhausted. This leaves the political paragrapher of the New York Tribune without an intelligible subject. Even as it is, he is compelled to keep his squibs in fresh water to prevent them from spoiling.—Philadelphia Times.

The Brooklyn Eagle, a champion of Mr. Tilden's aspirations, advocates his nomination for the governorship of New York. The election takes place in November, and if Mr. Tilden has the courage to accept such a nomination and the strength to secure his election, his boom for the presidency would drown all the other booms on the Democratic side by a large majority.—Atlanta Constitution.

The sentiments expressed by soldiers at the several recent army reunions indicate that the veterans of the late war do not believe in continuing the sectional strife. The Southern soldiers are the most progressive men of their section. The men on both sides, who are making up the worst faces at each other, are the politicians who never smelt powder.—Boston Herald.

The Old Republican Doctrine.

Springfield Republican.

The Federal army is not a police force, and ought not to be habitually used to enforce any law, much less election laws. This is the old doctrine of the Republican party. The vote of a single small State may be, as it has been, the pivot of a Presidential election. The Federal army, small as it is, is large enough to affect the result in Florida, for instance, and the work once done cannot be undone. It is the part of wisdom to put temptations of this sort out of the reach of political managers. Neither party has shown itself above yielding to them.

The One Great End.

Indiana True Democrat.

Democrats may just as well make up their minds first as well as last that there can be no permanent, healthy peace in the country until the Radical party is thoroughly whipped and routed at the polls; and in order to do this we must have a thorough organization of the party before the close of this year. Let the great battle of 1880 commence now!

An Aggravation.

Pittsfield (Mass.) Sun.

We are very sorry that our peaceful, stay-at-home judge of probate of Berkshire county finds it "an aggravation" that Major General Ewing of Ohio, "was a gallant Union officer of the army." These "stalwart" organs are now doting rather on "Confederate brigadiers" who answer their purpose better.

Tilden in Georgia.

Covington Star.

It is at least gratifying to the friends of Mr. Tilden that the press of Georgia are almost unanimous in their choice for that gentleman's renomination for the presidency. It is a 'string of points' in his favor, to begin with, that cannot be beaten by any other candidate in this State.

In Springer's Trap.

Washington Post.

Mr. Garfield and his corps of trained acrobats are not likely to achieve anything more wonderful than the double back-action summersault which landed them in Mr. Springer's trap on Monday.

They Have Found Out.

Griffin News.

Many of the wives in Atlanta have found out from the evidence in the Hill case what lodges their husbands attended when they were out late at night.

What the South Needs.

Memphis Avalanche.

More cotton spindles, fewer politicians, more persons employed in factories and fewer as walking arsenals, are great needs of the South.

The Radical Split.

Philadelphia Times.

Some irreconcilable Senators are still of the opinion that Hayes ought not to be restored to the Republican party, and as they have heard that he will sign the army appropriation bill they will have discovered that they are opposed to it. Work of this kind calls for no ordinary sort of statesmanship.

The Real De Facto.

From the Philadelphia Times.

Those who are urging Mr. Zachariah Chandler as a Presidential candidate for the next year shouldn't overlook the fact that the Michigan Senator is serving out the unexpired term for which Mr. Rutherford B. Hayes was elected.

The Unreconstructed.

Springfield Republican.

In his recent speech to a Mississippi convention Jeff Davis said he had never seen a Southern woman reconstructed. This is probably due to the fact that the women did no fighting. The same thing is seen at the North in the case of the people who did none.

THE INVENTION OF THE AGE.

Talbott's new Patent Spark Arrester is really the only perfect and reliable one, and is superseding all others in use. The great efficiency of this Arrester is attracting universal attention, and is being endorsed by the best mechanical engineers and insurance companies. Its prominent features are:

It does not destroy the draft.

It does not interfere with cleaning the tubes.

It will not choke up, and requires no cleaning.

It requires no direct dampers to be opened when raising steam (dampers being objectionable, as they may be left open and allow sparks to escape.)

It requires no water to extinguish sparks, which, by condensation, destroys the draft. Besides, when water is used, if neglected, the efficiency is destroyed by evaporation of the water, and the boiler is kept in a filthy condition.

It is simple and durable, and can be relied upon.

It can be attached to any boiler.

No planter should be without one of them. Insurance companies will insure gins and barns where the Talbott Engines and Spark Arresters are used at same rate as charged for water or horse-power.

Gleanings.

The following bit of practical wisdom is from Rev. W. H. H. Murray: "Heaven is not populated with singing thieves or psalm-bearing bankrupts, who settle with their creditors at twenty-five cents on the dollar Wednesday and ride to church the next Sabbath in a thousand dollar coach, with a man in livery on the box."

One of the monkeys at the lunatic asylum, named Bill, a few days ago swallowed two hundred arsenic pills, and the morning after he still further pampered his appetite by eating a paper of tacks. His keepers certainly expected that the two doses would put a veto upon his further existence, but next morning he was discovered complacently sucking a basket of eggs He is still alive and in full health and vigor.—Columbia Register.

A colored man residing in New York, and recently from Virginia, with only a slight trace of negro blood, has invented and patented a fire-escape which attracts the attention even of the experts in this line. Some of the engineers of the fire department are emphatic in their approval.

The city of Madison, Ind., which, for the past half century, has enjoyed a quiet as profound as that of Pompeii or Georgetown, was struck by lightning last Friday. And now the papers of that city are boasting of their "superior enterprise as compared with much larger cities."

While common people have been sweating and groaning over the taxes they have been obliged to pay on almost every article of use or consumption, a single room in the new navy building has been fitted up at a cost of $10,000.

The champion sea turtle has just been landed in New York. It was caught off the Delaware capes. It is eight feet long, about six feet wide, weighs about 1,200 pounds, and is of the species known as "leather-back."

The production of butter and cheese in this country is said to be four times greater in value than the total value of our gold and silver mines.

West Alexandria, Va., has a justice of the peace who has married over one thousand four hundred couples.

A Devil Fish.

Corpus Christ (Texas) Free Press.

On the last trip of the schooner Aransas, from Indianola, a devil fish leaped aboard and took passage for this city. He is a singular-looking fellow, of some eight or ten pounds weight, of the shape of a bird with extended wings, purplish-blue color, thickly dotted with white starry spots in the back, with two short forked tails, similar to those of our dress coat. The tails have each an unpleasant-looking, sharp, bony barb, and from between them runs out a black, slender, wiry tail, four or five feet long—as long as that of his old namesake as shown in authentic likenesses.

Medical.

LIVER.

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person (about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow. MERRELL'S HEPATINE, the great vegetable discovery for torpid Liver, causes the Liver to throw off from one to two ounces of bile each time the blood passes through it, as long as there is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking HEPATINE in accordance with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given.

THE BUFFALO LITHIA WATERS

As a General Remedial Agent in Chronic Diseases,

It is confidently claimed for these waters, and the claim though a strong one is substantiated by the testimony of many of the most eminent medical men of the country, both North and South, that in the following enumerated diseases: Affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, especially in Stone or Gravel, Dyspepsia, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatism, Paralysis, Malarial Fevers in their chronic form, Dropsical Effusion, Uremia or Uremic Poison, Chronic Cutaneous Eruptions, and in the Functional Diseases peculiar to Women, more especially in all Disorders of the Menstrual Function. They have accomplished results as remarkable as were ever accomplished by any remedial agent whatsoever, whether in materia medica or among mineral waters. They are confidently recommended by some eminent medical men as a preventive of the disturbance and dangers incident to Pregnancy.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Sweet Little Buttercup:—
"I've snuff and tobaccy, and excellent jacky,
I've scissors and and watches and knives;
I've ribbons and laces to set off the faces
Of pretty young sweethearts and wives."

——Dust.

——Rain is needed.

——The city is full of lawyers.

——Revenue receipts yesterday $10,414.56.

——Chenille is seen in nearly all of the latest galloons and fringes.

——Is "one bird in hand worth two in the bush," or how is it anyway?

——A ruched garniture for the neck is called the Sara Bernhardt collar.

——Overdresses for evening and dinner wear are made of the new Breton lace material.

——"A dry June for a good crop" has been amply exemplified in this county. Crops never looked better.

——The workmen are putting the finishing touch upon the stone work of the government building.

——It will be of rare delight;
For they themselves have said it,
And it's greatly to their credit;
That it comes off Friday night.

——"King Cotton" was "off" yesterday: both "spots" and "futures" were marked down several "points" in New York.

——A large force was engaged yesterday afternoon raising a telegraph pole on Fayetteville street just below Pescud & Lee's.

——The "Independent" brass band returned from Oxford last night, and will furnish the music at the First Presbyterian Sunday School pic-nic to-day.

——And now the lazy darkies reclineth gracefully upon the court house benches and nasalized thunder is a drag upon the market, the demand being light and the court house "green," full.

——The NEWS is glad to notice that on the streets yesterday was the acceptable and able minister of the Presbyterian church at Fayetteville, Rev. H. G. Hill, who was on his way to Hillsboro.

——Otey, the most popular tonsorial artist in the city, has fitted up and arranged handsomely the long hall in the Pullen building for his barber shop, and will be more convenient to the public than at his former place.

——The largest number of bonds presented at the State Treasury from any one individual came through the Raleigh National Bank yesterday from Marshall & Ilsley, Milwaukee, Mich., and amounted to $170,500.

——A movement is on hand to sprinkle Fayetteville street during the summer. We hope it will be a success, and think it would be a comfort to the merchants and their customers as well as save the goods inside and outside from great damage.

——A telegram to Colonel A. B. Andrews yesterday announced the death of Mr. John A. Wilson, of Charlotte, the popular and efficient agent of the North Carolina Railroad. His death will be a great loss to his family, the citizens of Charlotte, and the North Carolina Railroad.

——About three months ago a little negro girl about nine or ten years of age, attempted to set fire to a house in the eastern portion of the city. She was committed to jail where she has ever since remained until yesterday, when she was taken before Judge Eure, who released her without trial on account of her tender years and a promise to desist from like practice in the future.

The School Bill Mandamus.

This case has been continued by Judge Eure till next Monday, for illness in the family of one of the counsel for the defendant.

No Jury Cases.

By consent of the bar, notice has been entered that no civil case requiring a jury trial will be called at this term of Wake Superior Court.

Mayor's Court.

Henry Blake had a warrant issued for the arrest of Wash. Hawkins, on the charge of cursing him within the market precincts. Henry testified that Wash. cursed him; but his two witnesses didn't hear anything. Then Wash. must get up and kick the bucket over by acknowledging that he did say "damn it." The Mayor fined him $2, and he took an appeal.

One drunk got the privilege of consuming twelve hours in the basement parlor of the City Hall. Mr. Smith also received the courtesies of the season for the space of twenty-four hours' on account of a little playful ebullition of feeling that His Honor surely must have misinterpreted, as he termed it malicious mischief, and had the piano removed to another apartment of the institution for safety.

Pinafore.

It is seldom that a play of any sort has taken such a hold of the popular mind as "Pinafore" has in this country and England. And the principal claim that it has to popular favor is the airiness of the music coupled with the broad grotesqueness of the plot. It would almost seem that Mr. Gilbert is a monomaniac on the subject of change of characters from high to low degree, recalling the old time stories wherein figured the long-lost brother with a strawberry mark on his arm who had been "borrowed" in babyhood by the gipsies, as two of his "Bab Ballads" are on the same subject, either of which might be taken for the enlargement of "Pinafore."

Be that as it may, "Pinafore" has proven a success, whole lines forming household phrases. It was finely rendered at Tucker Hall week before last, and with such eclat that its repetition has been demanded. The demand is to be complied with, and next Friday evening Little Buttercup will recall the time

"When she was young and charming,
And practiced baby-farming;"

Captain Corcoran, "if you please," will swear just once with a "big D," and the sentimental Ralph will sigh his heart out over his apparently slim chances with the lovely Josephine.

This is a good chance for those who have never seen this neat little opera to do so.

The entertainment is for the benefit of the First Presbyterian Church choir.

Personal.

Colonel I. J. Young has returned from New York City where he has been under the surgical treatment of the eminent physicians of that city. He has been greatly benefited from his trip.

Digest of the Supreme Court Opinions, June Term, 1879.

[Reported for the News by Walter Clark Esq., Attorney at Law.]

BY SMITH, C. J.

4. Grant vs. Morris, from Northampton.

What constitutes usury is a question of law upon facts admitted or found, hence it is not error to refuse to submit an issue "whether there was usury or not" to the jury. The mere entry of an usurious claim in an account is neither a "taking, receiving or charging," within the meaning of the act, which implies more to be done to the loss or detriment of the debtor than the mere presentation of an illegal claim which is neither recognized nor paid.

BY SMITH, C. J.

5. Worley vs. Smith, from Jones.

Where a sheriff was re-elected in August, 1878, was inducted into office in September, 1878 and died in the same month, whereupon the Board of Commissioners elected and inducted into office his successor on the first Monday in October and the new Board of Commissioners elected a Sheriff on the 1st Monday in December to fill the vacancy. Held, the sheriff's term of office did not expire till December, the induction into office therefore in September was "a vain thing," the election in October was for an incumbent only for the balance of the term till December and the election in December was valid. The terms of County officers commence in December and sec. 77 of the General Election Law of 1876-77 merely changed the time of election for 1878 to August leaving the term of office to commence in December. It is irregular to induct a sheriff into office who gives only one of his bonds but this can be remedied by his subsequently giving the others.

BY SMITH, C. J.

6. Vick v. Pope, from New Hanover.

The absence of a complaint is not such a defect as to invalidate a judgment otherwise regularly obtained. It is too late after judgment for a feme covert, regularly served with process, to set up a defense growing out of the coverture which she could have used at the trial.

BY ASHE, J.

7. State v. Parker, from Edgecombe.

An indictment concluding "against the peace and dignity" but omitting the words "of the State," is sufficient. It seems that under the Constitution of 1868 any formal conclusion of an indictment is not essential.

BY ASHE, J.

8. Petersburg R. R. Co. vs. Commissioners of Northampton county, from Northampton.

The 17th section of the charter of the Petersburg Railroad Co., granted by the Virginia Legislature, and which was assented to by the Legislature of this State, exempts from taxation "all machines, wagons, vehicles, &c., of said Company, and all their works constructed under the authority of this act." Held, The exemption of "all other works constructed under authority of this act" embraces the road-bed, depots, warehouses and other buildings and structures, with the lands covered by them, which are necessary to the operation of the road. Held further, that the reservation in sec. 8 of the act of the North Carolina Legislature, of the right to amend, alter or modify the said act of incorporation so far as it applied to the road in this State, was not exercised by the general Revenue Act, since it especially excepted railroads with charters exempting them from taxation, from its operation, and there is no direct act founded upon the power reserved in said section 8.

BY ASHE, J.

9. State vs. Craig, from New Hanover.

Under the present stringent road law regularly appointed pilots are not exempt from working on roads. All previous exemptions, except those continued in the Road act, are repealed. An emergency requiring the service of the pilot on the day he is required to work a public road would be a good defense as he could elect which of the two public duties he would fulfill.

BY DILLARD, J.

10. State vs. Parker, from Edgecombe.

An indictment founded on sec. 95, chap. 32 Battle's Revisal, for abusing the live stock of another, in an enclosure not surrounded by a lawful fence, is defective if it charges merely that the abuse was done "unlawfully," omitting to add "willfully" or some other equivalent word. The abuse might be "unlawful" and yet done only from carelessness or by accident.

BY DILLARD, J.

11. Weiller vs. Lawrence, from Northampton.

The eight days' notice of a motion required by sec. 346, C. C. P. does not apply to examinations under supplementary proceedings but by sec. 264 C. C. P. the court or judge can fix the time and place. An affidavit for such examination must negative both the existence of property that can be reached by execution and of equitable interests which could be reached by proceedings for the sale of the same. On a motion to dismiss for want of the latter allegation the plaintiff can be allowed to amend and supply it. As to supplemental proceedings, joint debtors stand on the same footing of other debtors (when served with process) both when the execution is unreturned and returned. A personal demand is not necessary before instituting supplementary proceedings, the suit, judgment and execution being sufficient notice.

BY DILLARD, J.

12. Hill vs. Overton, from Hertford.

The lapse of seven years of adverse possession, concurrently with and included in the thirty years necessary to raise a presumption of title out of the State, is a sufficient title under our general law on which successfully to maintain or defend an action of ejectment for the recovery of real property. Sec. 8, ch. 14 Battle's Revisal does not change the law so as to require the seven years of adverse possession to be additional to the thirty years necessary to prove title out of the State

Right Time to Operate in Stock.

By recent communication with prominent stock operators, we learn that now is a favorable time to take advantage of the stock market, by the new combination method of Messrs. Lawrence & Co., the New York bankers, who have been so remarkably successful heretofore. This system is founded on correct rules of finance and is universally approved by the shrewdest operators. The orders of thousands of customers are massed into one immense capital, and operated as a great whole, dividing profits pro rata every month. In this way any customer can invest from $10 to $10,000 with equal proportionate success, and at the same time gain all the advantages of largest capital and best skill in manipulating the market. This firm's new circular has "two unerring rules for success" and full explanations. $50 will make $250, or 5 per cent.; $500 will return $3,000, and so on, according to the market. Stocks and bonds wanted. Deposits received. Apply to Lawrence & Co. Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, New Yok, City.

Prejudice Kills.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Parents.

Haunted Me.

Debt, poverty and suffering haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor. I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost.—A Workingman.

Would an Irredeemable Currency be as good as gold? While there is a very large class of intelligent citizens who believe it would, we regard it our duty to all alike to say that as a cure for old sores, cuts, bruises, jams and slashes, there is nothing like Carbolic Salve. Beware of counterfeits.

A Remedy That has Been Remedied.

The invincible repugnance felt by almost every one to the smell and flavor of Cod Liver Oil, has prevented tens of thousands of the victims of debility, reaping the benefits of its peculiar healing and nutritive properties. The almost hopeless consumptive, the martyr to Rheumatism, the barely living shadows of men, women and children that emerge from the clutches of malarial fevers, all of these know, or at least their doctors know, that of all discovered remedies, this Oil is the best, and often the only one that will build up their wasted bodies, and restore their shattered nerves. and far more effective than the Oil by itself is Scott's Emulsion of it, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. This is the finest and most natural food in the world, and wholly deprived of its disagreeable qualities. Sold by Wm. Simpson, Druggist.

BOVINE, MISSISSIPPI, April 22, 1879.—The following correspondence will explain itself: A. WADDILL, ESQ., LYNCHBURG, VA.—Dear Sir: Observing a certificate from you in reference to the "Iron and Alum Mass," of the Seven Springs, in Washington county, Va., in relation to its efficacy for Liver Diseases, would you have the kindness to inform me whether you used the "Mass" or the "Water;" also, a description of the symptoms and such other information as you may deem pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer with Liver Complaint, and naturally feel very anxious on the subject of a remedy that will afford me even temporary relief. Your early reply will greatly oblige, very respectfully,

WILLIAM BARR.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 12, 1879.—WM. BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi—Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the "Liver case" which was effectually cured in my family from using the "Seven Springs Mass," is before me. The case referred to in my certificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 years. She had been afflicted with Liver Disease for 30 years, sometimes almost dying with pains in the back, breast, and heaviness of the chest, heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach, vomiting, &c. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she continued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass." I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such diseases as above indicated, but for various other complaints for which it is recommended. Hoping these answers satisfactory, I am, very truly, A. WADDILL, Proprietor Lynchburg News.

False Impression.

It is generally supposed by physicians and the people generally that Dyspepsia cannot invariable be cured, but we are pleased to say that Green's August Flower has never, to our knowledge, failed to cure Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint in all its forms, such as Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Sick Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, &c. Out of the 50,000 dozen bottles sold last year, not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received from Druggists of wonderful cures. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample battles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents.

Unpleasant Smell.

There is nothing more offensive than an unpleasant smell. To avoid this, use Dr. Price's Unique Perfumes, which are more delicate and durable than any other odors. His Floral Riches, for a Cologne Water, has a rich, fresh, flowery odor, and his Pet Rose and other odors, have only to be used to be admired.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretion of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, Free of Charge. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. Joseph T. Inman. Station D., New York City.
